

From the Litter Box

By: Deb Korneli

Saturday March 15th, seventeen members and guests of the Wisconsin Jaguar Club attended the “West Side Story” presentation at the Fireside Dinner Theatre in Fort Atkinson. Prior to dinner, many of us took the opportunity to visit the shops and stock up on all the necessary trinkets they had to offer. Unfortunately, there were no car parts available!

Seated at a table for seventeen, we enjoyed lively conversation, drinks and an appetizer before our delicious dinners were served. All this was followed by a tasty cherry cobbler with ice cream. Following our meal, we were led to our seats in the theater.

With music by Leonard Bernstein and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim, how could we go wrong. The actors and actresses in this rendition of West Side Story were wonderful. Their singing voices, strong and clear, matched the voices of Natalie Wood and Rita Moreno. All the cast members did a great job. I even had a hard time holding back tears at the end.

If you’ve never been to the Fireside, it’s a theater in the round. Not a bad seat in the house. You should try to go. We will continue to offer this event in the future. It’s a great chance to get together when we aren’t able to meet with our cars.

We are looking forward to seeing you all at the Potluck on April 5th hosted by Carl and Carrol Jensen. RSVP information is listed in the calendar of events and on page 3 of this newsletter.

THE AMELIA: Amelia Island Florida by: Deb Korneli, Photos, Cindy Fine

A month is a long time to be away from home, especially while towing a car and trailer. We left for our annual respite from cold weather and snow with the final destination being the Amelia Island Concours. The first leg of our trip was spent with three of Mike's sisters and my sister. It's great to spend time with them and enjoy warm weather. This time it was a bit chilly!

It's customary to rent a condo on Amelia Island with friends. This year there were five Jag Club members sharing the condo. Roy and Cindy Fine and Todd Flemming joined us. Carl and Carrol Jensen booked a last minute trip and spent time with us at dinners and on the show field. It was the first time for Roy and Cindy and we were fortunate to have them volunteer to be our "handlers". That means they helped us prep the 1934 SS1 for Judging. They did a great job and we were awarded a 2nd place ribbon in our class. First place went to Dana Mecum who was showing a 1938 Delage D8-120S Aerosport fastback.

The show was scheduled for Sunday but the weather forecast was for all day rain. They moved the show to Saturday which turned out to be a great decision. There were a few drips early in the morning but the rest of the day was partly sunny and warm. It's always nice to spend time with car friends. Some we only get to see once a year but it's a real treat. We left the show field and drove the SS1 across the island and loaded it on the trailer for an eighteen-hour trip home. All went well. The SS1 is in its spot in the basement awaiting its next outing. It does deserve another cleaning before the cover goes on... Roy, Cindy?

Other things to do, while on Amelia Island, were viewing the auction cars and enjoying the bidding process. It seemed like the prices were a bit low in the beginning, but there were some cars that exceeded expectations.

My favorite thing about going to any car event is the people. We've made so many friends being involved in the car hobby. It's great to see people that we only get to see once a year; catching up over dinner, drinks or at an ice cream shop. Auction cars below. My Favorite... Peugeot

DID-YOU-KNOW by Facia Nearside

When it comes to documenting world records the Brits have got it sorted. Conceived in London and originally called “The Guinness Book of World Records” the name of the document today is simply “Guinness World Records”. So, if one were to search for the world’s smallest production car, what better place to look. The result? How about a car that weighs only 130 pounds and can easily drive through a doorway!

Produced on the Isle of Man beginning in 1962 the Peel P50 was advertised as seating “one adult and a shopping bag”. It had one door, one seat, one windscreen wiper, and one headlight. Powered by a 3cu in/4.2 hp engine. It had a three-speed manual transmission with no reverse and was capable of 38 mph. (A handle was provided at the rear to move the car backward if necessary.) The car retailed for £199 and over the four-year production run 50 were built.

In 2010 Peel Engineering LTD resumed production of the P50 in Sutton-in-Ashfield, England. The new car is virtually identical to the original but with mechanical improvements to the steering, suspension, and drive train. It now comes with a reverse gear as well. The car is available in both petrol and electric models, and despite the improvements still weighs only 130 pounds. All cars are hand built to order and sell at the rate of about 15 per year.

The current model will set you back a little north of £15,000, which also makes it one of the lowest priced new cars in the world. As for those original Peel P50s, about 27 are known to exist. If you fancy putting one of them in your garage, plan on shelling out a good bit more!
